The commitment of a discipleship relationship is of highest priority to see Christ grow in the other

See page 2 for references and a section for further notes

Point of Reference for some of the questions:

Who are you? – This is designed to give the other person a small idea of how you see yourself. You might feel the question is a bit ambiguous and unclear but it is designed as such to allow you to answer as you see fit.

What interests you? – This is designed to give the other person an idea of where you may find common ground with your interests to enable connecting together. It may also inform the setting you decide to gather in e.g. going for a run together, meeting at a coffee shop

'Uniquely You' Section – This section is designed to help you reflect on how God has pieced you together in many varied ways but also provides some understanding to the other person as to the different qualities have or do not have. This may provide some further opportunities to connect personally together but also gives spiritual direction as to what things may need to be encouraged/celebrated/challenged/explored.

'Quality Time' Section – This section is designed to provide some direction as to what gathering together may look like in a discipleship relationship and provide a starting point to eventually agree on when and how your gatherings may be. Find something that suits both of you and that is sustainable throughout the whole year.

Notes

This space is provided for a discipler to make further notes about their disciple to follow on from the notes on page 1 and to use as an extra reference for important pieces of information. Feel welcome to add more pages of notes if necessary as time goes on.
